COFFEE NEWS & CHAT

At the April home demonstration club meetings, members will study different cuts of meat. We feel they will learn valuable information as to how to select better meats.
 During the month of April, we'll be out of the county off and on at meetings. 3 p.m. in Wakefield will attend a handicraft school in Troy April 7 and the home agent will be in Ozark April 9 for Freezing information. We will have our Food Preservation Specialist, Miss Isabelle Downey in Enterprise April 8 for an agent's meeting on the Freezing of meats.
 I surely did enjoy seeing the remodeling done at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bibb Wilson in the New Hope community.
 Kitchen area was moved, with kitchen-din combination. Mrs. Wilson has also improved her lawn area by removing a fence.

4-H NEWS Round-up

Beef Cakes—
 Plans are shaping up rapidly for the annual 4-H and FFA Fat Calf show which will be held the first Monday in May at the Enterprise Livestock Company Barn.
 Forty-five steers will be shown by Coffee county boys and girls and indications are that this show will be the best one in several years.
 I visited some of the calves the first part of the week and all of them are making progress. The boys and girls are trying to put as much fat and weight on the calves as possible, because the higher they grade the more they will bring per pound.
 Jimmy and Pam Moore in the Goodman community have calves for the first time this year. Other girls who have calves this year are Margaret and Dianne Bryan, Faye Allen, Janet Fillingim, Linda Kay Howell, Jeanette Jones, Miranda McCall, Amelia Sessions and Karen Gibson.
 Safety Essays—
 Curtis Donaldson of the Curtis Club has already sent in his 300 word essay on Farm Safety.
 4-H Club boys and girls all along with the essays in the process of writing essays which will be judged April 15. Awards for the best essays will be given at the 4-H Club Rally on May 1. The contest is divided into a Junior and Senior division, with awards going to the winning boy and girl in each division.
 Coastal Bermuda—
 Marion J. Sanders of the Repton community stopped by the office earlier this week and we asked him about his coastal Bermuda. About two years ago his son, Kenneth, planted a one-acre coastal Bermuda demonstration and from this small patch the Sanders have planted about six more acres. Other boys including Andy and John Wilson and three other boys over the county also started coastal Bermuda demonstration the same year and have been successful.
 Any time beginning now until July 1 when there is plenty of moisture in the ground is a good time to get this grass started on your farm.
 Talent—
 Home demonstration agent Sara E. Hutchinson and I helped judge a 4-H talent contest in Geneva a few nights ago and Friday of this week I am to help judge the Houston

REASON IS THE ONLY FACULTY WE HAVE WHEREWITH TO JUDGE
When you purchase any medicine or health aid there are many good reasons why you should only get them from a pharmacist. It really takes much knowledge to know how to store them so that they will always be potent. We are taught how while at college.
Often we can give suggestions for better results and cautions when necessary to protect you from possible harm. It costs no more when you get medicines and health aids from us. Your considered judgment of these reasons should influence you to depend only on your pharmacy.

BY MRS. ROBERT CANNON

EASTER proved to be a lovely time despite all the weather could do to make it otherwise.

The children arrived at Sunday School with all their finery carefully shielded by bright yellow rain slickers and the church congregation was highlighted by numerous white coats on the "younger men."

The altar was lovely, its quiet dignity embraced by altar vases of Easter lilies, sent by a devoted son in memory of his parents. The music lifted one's thoughts and Rev. Hendricks delivered what we have come to expect from him, a really great sermon whose thoughts linger in the mind long past the closing hymn.

TO US, a holiday means going home. And there were lots of couples here, who obviously felt the same way. Glimpsed Jean Day of New York with her handsome children talking to Mr. John Brunson at the bank one pleasant afternoon.

Joe and Katherine Brooks drove the youngsters from Montgomery for a brief visit with the grandparents and Billy and Mary Oswald Rowe were here from Birmingham.

Also home were Frazer, Genina and Mary Ringsdorf, of Tusculosa.

ATTRACTIVE Frances Faris has returned from a trip to see her second grandchild. She and Sandra spent several days in Macon, Ga., with the Jimmy Faris' and their new son and heirs. Enjoyed talking with Frances on a recent Sunday (when she was escorting a cute little thing in ruffles and ribbons to the nursery) about Jimmy and his family.

DID YOU SEE the attractive picture in the Montgomery Advertiser of Mr. and Mrs. Noah Norman, Sr.? They celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary last Sunday and there was a large write-up in the city paper. Pictured also was Elba's Noah Norman and among the family attending, we found the name of Richard Norman, Jr. and Marlin flew from Augusta Ga., for the occasion and we heard that Marlin was "part-time" pilot for the trip.

AN EVENT of Special Interest to all of us will be the recital soon to be given by Dorothy Lindsey's dancing school. Civic-minded Dorothy has graciously offered all proceeds of the recital to the school and is offering a year's free dance instruction to the child who sells the most tickets, so that the school should receive a nice gift.

The program itself sounds quite exciting and the costumes are going to be "out of this world." Backlogs are being made here and in neighboring towns and many of the town's talented youngsters will be featured. See you there?

CONGRATULATIONS to the John Milton Wies of Luverne who have added a little girl to their family. And also to the proud grandparents.

All I know is what I see in the papers.
—Will Rogers

QUESTION POSED TO REMODEL OR BUY NEW HOME

By Don Moore
Executive Director, Home Improvement Council

A number of research studies have shown that many millions of American homeowners are aware that their homes are less modern, less attractive than they should be. One study, in fact, indicated that 32 million families want some kind of home modernization project.

If you are among that group, it will not surprise you to learn that the most common question among all such homeowners is this:

"How can a decide whether we'd be better off to improve our present home or to get another one—in other words, when is it worth while to remodel and when is it not?"

tered by the Council: In deciding whether or not to modernize your home, the first step is to determine as closely as possible the exact cost of the planned project. If it is an extensive project, this step should involve estimates from several dealer contractors or dealers.

Then, add the cost of the project to the total of your previous investment in the home (including present mortgage debt and look around in your community to find out what your new total investment would buy in the new home market.

You will probably find in this investigation that you will be providing your family with a great deal more space per dollar through modernization.

Another important consideration is the question of how much this new investment will add to the total worth of your home. In most modernization projects the cost is more than offset by the home's increased value.

In fact, the Council has observed that a family's expenditure for home improvement is more like an investment—more like "money in the Bank"—than any other possible purchase. Your banker will more than likely be happy to give you his opinion on your proposed project in investment terms.

Often, however, economic considerations are over-emphasized at the expense of equally important factors of sentiment, convenience and comfort. If you are likely to remain in your present location for a number of years, there is no need to limit your modernization plans just to those that can be considered a sensible investment.

A Home To Live In
A home after all is to live in and enjoy. If it is to be a family's home for years to come, then the modern conveniences that it offers, its appearance and its facilities for providing further recreational need of every member of the family are just as important as financial factors.

Also, on the side of sentiment you will want to think about the neighborhood home, you will probably live near established schools, churches, shopping facilities, playgrounds and the other amenities new areas frequently lack.

You, perhaps especially your children, will want to go beyond these circumstances of the neighborhood in your thinking and consider the neighbors as well. Established friendships are another factor that must be considered in determining whether or not it is worthwhile to modernize your existing home.

If like most families, yours includes individuals who must travel to work and school, you will also want to weigh carefully the relative convenience of your existing home's location. If a new home "further out" will add to travel time and expense, that must be also taken into consideration.

Some homes are beyond modernizing, of course. If there are indications of serious structural defects, it would be advisable to obtain the opinions of building professionals to add to your own assessment of the situation.

Improvements Make Farm More Profitable

LIFE ON FARM CAN BE EASIER AND PROFITABLE

Home improvement means farm improvement too. There's a wonderful world of better and more prosperous farming available with little effort and surprisingly low cost.

Farm supply houses have an almost endless variety of products especially designed to make life on the farm easier and a lot more profitable. And today there are important improvements in virtually all the tools of farming, from the biggest to the most humble.

With many farms expanding and diversifying their operations, there's a growing need for specialized buildings.

Protection from heat is important also. Farm profits can go up in summer haze if livestock, poultry and stored crops are not safeguarded from excessive heat.

New research has shown that summer temperatures above 75 degrees can cause appreciable losses without cool shade. For heat protection, the right roofing material is all-important.

Experiments at a large mid-western state college have established that white-painted galvanized steel sheets provide the lowest temperatures for farm buildings and sheds.

This showed up clearly in a comparative study of nine common roofing materials. There's no time like springtime to make plans for additional irrigation systems. New fittings and couplings for steel pipe and culvert make it even easier to provide proper water and drainage control. And, if there's a stream to be bridged, a piece of large steel culvert will make that job a lot easier, stronger and longer lasting.

Farm equipment dealers and suppliers can make almost any farming operation better in every way. Looking over their stocks should be number one on the spring chore list.

Valedictorian—NEW ELECTION IS CALLED FOR DISTRICT TAXES

A new school tax extension election was called by the Board of County Commissioners Monday to supplement a school tax extension election for May 19 for extension of the existing three-mill school tax for districts and which could not be submitted by law to the voters until the county-wide extension was adopted.

The school superintendent for Elba, Enterprise and the county appeared before the Board and reviewed that the schools operate on a total of seven mills tax on each dollar assessed valuation. This seven mills consists of units of 1-mill and 3-mill county-wide taxes adopted by the voters last week and an additional 3-mill tax levied by districts and which is due to expire Oct. 1, 1964.

Neither the taxes voted last week, nor the taxes for which election is called May 19, constitute any additional taxation but are for extension of present taxes which, by law, for the year 1959, were levied by School Superintendent S. J. Casey of Elba, Superintendent J. R. Smellgrove for Enterprise, and C. E. Peacock for the county.

The new election will be to extend the district levy for Enterprise for 24 years, and for Elba and the rest of the county outside the two cities for 20 years from Oct. 1, 1964, when the present taxes expire.

The county-wide school tax extensions last week failed to carry only three of the 37 boxes in the entire county. Opposed to the extensions were Beat 6, Box 4, in Elba at the Reese Street - Coast Line railroad crossing where the vote was 10 yes and 11 no; Beat 10, Box 3, Chestnut Grove, where every one of the 14 votes cast were in opposition; and Beat 21, Woodland Grove, where the vote was 7 yes and 10 no, on the 3-mill levy.

The same boxes were the only polling places in the county which voted against the 1-mill levy. The vote in Beat 6, Box 4, was the same as on the 3-mill levy; at Chestnut Grove it was 7 yes and 9 no, and at Woodland Grove it was 7 yes and 10 no.

County - Wide Results
For the entire county the 3-mill levy was adopted 1,118 yes and only 194 no, while county-wide the 1-mill levy was adopted 1,131 yes and only 194 no.

Present at Monday's meeting of the board held in Enterprise were Commissioners Tinsion, Brown, Bowden and Whitman with Probate Judge J. O. English presiding.

The board also refused all bids on purchase of a desk for the court house in Enterprise. Ordered new bid in the cost of $114.55, employed Delamette, sheriff's office at a cost of $114.55, employed Delamette, sheriff's office at a cost of $114.55, employed Delamette, sheriff's office at a cost of $114.55.
